Ophthalmic Titanium Surgical Instruments

forceps design for the future

With 40 years experience, Duckworth & Kent is a world leader in titanium ophthalmic surgical instrumentation, being innovative in design and function, whilst using sophisticated technology to bring the ophthalmic surgeons the finest instrumentation on the market.

Constantly striving for improved quality and consistency, Duckworth & Kent would like to introduce its latest forceps designs, with an initial launch of 44 products based upon 4 new handle designs.

From the surgeon's perspective, the transition to the new style will feel both seamless and rewarding, offering an instrument of the highest precision and quality.
